

Definition: Fossils are evidence of past life preserved by geology.

Preservation processes: Fossils are created by geologic events or settings such as floods, mudflows, volcanic ashfalls, glaciers, streams/rivers, tarpits, caves, sand dunes, etc.

